

Unum.” We can affirm liberty and individual differences (Pluribus) and work together as one to solve our problems and achieve our goals (Unum).

I conclude with these words from Richard Johanson: “The millions who deeply love our nation and who would subscribe to the ethical and moral standards in our Constitution must come together. We need to return to conducting our political affairs within a national atmosphere wherein we can fulfill our governmental obligations with pride.”

John Minkler is co-founder and chief operating officer of the Civic Education Center, www.civicedcenter.org, in Fresno.

